How2Learn

Providing the BASICS

How children feel about themselves affects their approach to life. It influences their willingness to ‘have a go’ and take risks. It’s difficult to say ‘I don’t know’ or ‘I need help’ if you believe you’re not good enough. It’s more difficult to be successful if you don’t think well of yourself.

Here are the elements of what we call the BASICS. They are key to effective family learning and developing your child’s self-esteem.

Belonging

Everyone needs to feel they belong. Children need to feel valued and loved, both at home and at school. Make time to be with your child and listen to them. But there is more to it than just showing you care. If you establish routines for times like meals, baths, reading and bed, your child will know how you expect them to behave. This will help them to feel a sense of security and belonging.

Children with a strong sense of belonging are more likely to make friends who have similar clear guidance from their families. They will be more trusting in making friendships and less likely to be shy.
Tips for developing a sense of belonging

- Show your child what you want them to do, rather than criticizing them.
- Remind your child that they are loved for who they are and not what they do.
- Keep a family photograph album. Look at it sometimes and talk about the people it shows.

Visitors Book

Parents are advised that when visiting the school to help in the classrooms, you must sign in and out in the visitors’ book located at the front office.

No Hat, No Play

During Terms 1 and 4 our ‘Sunsafe Policy’ is in place. All children must wear a school hat when in the playground. NO CAPS. Hats are available from the office for $10 each or from Lowes.

School Lunch Orders

If you would like to order from the café please send in a brown paper bag with your child’s name, order and correct money. Lunch orders should be placed in the box provided at the front of the office.

Price list is attached to this newsletter.

Voluntary/Mathletics Contributions

10 confidence-building strategies every parent and teacher should know

Instilling confidence takes more than heaping praise on kids. Here are 10 practical confidence-building strategies for parents and teachers of children and young people.

Children with healthy self-esteem and self-confidence learn more, achieve more and are generally happier than those with low confidence levels. Building children's and young people's confidence is complex. It's more than being a praise robot and heaping positive comments on a child at the first sign of them doing something well. Confidence building requires a number of approaches that impact on how they think, how they feel and what they can do.

Here are ten practical strategies that you can use to build real self-confidence in kids of all ages:

1. Model confident thinking
   Kids soak up the language, thinking and behaviour of those closest to them in their environment. Parents and teachers play a part in modelling confident thinking and behaviour particularly when it comes to tackling new activities. In particular, let kids hear positive self-talk when you tackle something new. They should hear something like, “I’ll have a go at this. If I don’t do so well then I can try again tomorrow.” This is far more effective than “I’m no good at this. I’ll probably stuff it up.”

2. Focus on effort & improvement
   Current thinking shows that people who believe that they can increase their intelligence through effort and challenge actually get smarter and do better in school, work, and life over time. One way to develop a growth mindset is to focus your language on effort and improvement rather than on the results of what they do. By linking success with effort you are teaching them success comes from something other than purely their ability, talents or smarts.

3. Praise strategy
   While effort is key for achievement, it’s not the only thing. Kids need to try new strategies and seek input from others when they’re stuck. It helps too to focus language on better and smarter ways on improving. Comments such as “That was a smart idea to tackle the hardest task while you were fresh!” (strategy) and “You recognised the first few steps were the most important but then after that you were right” are descriptive statements that have significant instructional value for kids.

4. Develop self-help skills from an early age
   A child’s self-esteem comes as a result of his or her successes and accomplishments. The most important competencies to build confidence are basic self-help skills. These form the building blocks upon which other competencies such as organisational skills and many social skills are formed.

5. Give them real responsibility
   From a young age start giving children responsibility for some aspects of their lives. By giving kids responsibility we are sending a powerful message that we think they are capable. Also they are learning the skills necessary to care for themselves.

6. Practise unconditional acceptance
   Your ability to accept children and young people’s best efforts in any area of endeavour, irrespective of the results, will go a long way toward determining their self-esteem and confidence.

If a child makes their bed to the very best of their ability, resist fixing it, even though it may fall short of your adult standards. Instead remind them next time of how to do it well.

7 Expand their horizons
Some kids are confident and capable at home but are fearful and nervous when it comes to new social situations and unfamiliar environments. Children today have less opportunity than those in the past to negotiate and explore unpredictable situations. Wherever possible look for opportunities to expand children’s horizons to include unfamiliar places and unfamiliar locations including catching public transport and walking to friends’ places unattended when capable.

8 Recognise improvement
Focus your comments on children’s effort and improvement rather than on winning the game or getting top marks. Help kids set realistic goals in line with their capabilities and interests. Learning five new spelling words a week maybe more realistic than 20 words that school may require.

9 Put the training wheels on to support learning
Putting training wheels on a bike is a great way to teach a young child to ride. They keep them upright and mobile while they are getting the knack of balancing. We can use the same principle to support kids learning while they develop independence in many areas of life. For instance, we can accompany anxious kids to birthday parties and stay for a short time so they become comfortable before leaving.

10 Build teaching and training into your day
Teaching and training needs to be part of the every day repertoire of a parent. This means we need to add a little extra time to many of our interactions so we can help children acquire many of the basic skills of living, whether it is a young child learning to do up his or her shoelaces or a teenager learning how to fill out his or her tax form for a part-time job. When adults are busy it is often easier to do things ourselves.

Ask children for help
Doing things together is a great way to build competency and build the confidence that mastery brings. A simple way to initiate joint activity is to ask your child or young person to give you a hand with something. Better still, get them to teach you or show you how to do something you are unfamiliar with. Being a teacher rather than the learner is a great confidence-builder particularly for those kids who struggle with activities that others find easy.

Most importantly, great parents and teachers have a knack of communicating confidence in kids. They find ways to let kids know that they believe in them – that they know their kids will perform and succeed, that they have faith that they can deal with life’s challenges and know that they can become more independent.

2. POSITIVE BEHAVIOUR REINFORCEMENT

The following procedures have been developed to recognise and reinforce positive student behaviour in the playground and to foster feelings of self worth and belonging to the school community.

1. Behaviour, effort and achievement of students will be recognised by the use of formal awards.
   At the weekly assembly the following may be awarded:
   - Merit Cards: This is the principle system of reward and consists of a yearly cumulative system compromised of the following steps:
     - Green Card Award. These are awarded to students of any activity, academic or social, that the teachers deem worth recognition. Green Cards are presented at the weekly Whole School Assembly. The Green Cards are stamped on the back with the date they are handed into the office. No more than a quarter of the class should receive a Green card in any one week.
     - Special Encouragement Award. Is presented to the child after the collection of five Green cards at a weekly Whole School Assembly.
     - Golden Star Award and School Banner. Is presented to the child after the collection of five Special Encouragement Awards at a weekly Whole School Assembly. Recipients are also acknowledged at the annual School Presentation Night.
   - The merit card system is a yearly award system and begins anew at the start of each school year. Unstamped Green Cards from the previous year, however, can be used by the students in their attainment of a Special Encouragement Award.
   - One Student of the Week from each class to recognise appropriate, caring behaviour in both the classroom and playground (presented weekly by the principal)
   - All awards will be communicated to parents via the Weekly Newsletter.
   - The teacher will maintain the records responsible for school assemblies.

2. New students will be welcomed formally at a school assembly and receive a Welcome to our School certificate.

3. Departing students will be formally farewelled.

4. Students’ birthdays will be recognised in the school assembly.

3. WHOLE SCHOOL DISCIPLINE PLAN

To ensure the effectiveness of this plan, staff and school community need to be consistent in its implementation. From time to time, staff will be required to use their professional judgement in dealing with individuals or groups.

The underlying philosophy of this plan recognises that:
- Students will accept responsibility for their behaviour
- Teachers and parents play an integral part in assisting students to develop positive and acceptable behaviour patterns
- Each student has two choices: right and wrong
- Logical consequences for wrong choices need to be consistent throughout the school and provide an opportunity for the student to modify and improve their behaviour in the future
- Students, staff and parents must be aware of the rules and review them regularly
- Teaching staff and parents must discuss student related issues at a mutually convenient time and place to ensure confidentiality

TABLE TOP PS Student Supervision, Welfare and Discipline Procedures Revised Term 1 2016
CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT PLAN

1. To assist classroom management, teachers, together with their students, are advised to draw up rules for their classroom early in the year. As a guide it is advisable to cover:
   - Communication
   - Manners
   - Safety
   - Disputes
   - Movement
   - Learning

2. To address disruptive behaviour (such as calling out, refusal to complete tasks, answering back, disrupting other students) the staff member may choose to:
   - remind the student of the rule
   - restate the rule
   - give the student the choice: cooperate or accept consequences
   - If cooperation doesn’t eventuate issue a formal warning (name on board)
   - Move the student to a time-out area in classroom to reconsider behaviour.
   - “name X” on board.
   - Student is able to return to desk after short period (5-10 min).
   - The student is moved to time-out area for a session for the rest of the day (“name XX” written on board).
   - Record on behaviour slip.
   - Refer student to Principal

When a student has displayed disruptive behaviour on up to three occasions parents may be informed and requested to attend for interview.

The Principal may issue a 3 day Behaviour Monitoring Card.

3. To address obscene language or violent aggressive behaviour to an adult or student:
   - The student will be removed immediately from the class to the principal/office
   - The staff member will provide the principal, as soon as possible, a brief written report via the behaviour slip
   - The principal will contact the parents to address the issue
   - The parents will be informed that a repeat of this behaviour could result in a short suspension

4. To address on-going behavioural problems, staff members will:
   - Advise and seek support from their colleagues, school principal or school counsellor
   - Refer students to the school counsellor

PLAYGROUND MANAGEMENT PLAN

1. To address minor playground misbehaviour, (such as breaking a school rule, being out of bounds, unsafe use of equipment, running on a path), the student may:
   - Walk with a teacher to discuss the rules and a solution to the problem and/or
   - Be sent to a designated detention area to cool down and think about what has occurred and what should happen in the future
   - Record in playground incident folder

2. To address anti-social behaviours, (such as name calling, teasing, spoiling other students’ games), the student will:
   - Walk with the teacher, discuss rules and solutions

   - Recurring incidents refer to principal.
3. To address disputes over rules of games the teacher on duty may:

4. To address bad language and low level aggression/violence the staff member may:
   - Take necessary action to protect the safety of students
   - Send the offender to the detention area or the principal
   - Record in playground incident folder
   - The principal may notify the parents of the incident and action taken;
   - Issue a Behaviour Monitoring Card, and
   - Direct student to detention area

5. To address violent behaviour:
   - The staff member will send for the principal
   - The student will be escorted from the playground
   - The principal will take appropriate action (see below)

SERIOUS CASES OF MISBEHAVIOUR: SUSPENSION AND EXPULSION

- The principal may take action to suspend a student from school (in line with departmental guidelines) when the student is guilty of gross insolence, persistent disobedience, or physical or verbal violence
- In determining whether a student’s behaviour warrants suspension, the principal will consider the welfare of the student, teachers and other students in the class or school (a guiding principle is that the unacceptable and disruptive behaviour of one student should not be allowed to interfere with the educational progress of other students and/or threaten the well-being or motivation of teachers)
- In urgent circumstances the principal may suspend the student immediately
- The director-general makes decisions regarding expulsion; expulsion means that the student may not attend NSW Government schools and this occurs only in the most extreme cases of inappropriate behaviour.

SUPPORT FOR STUDENTS

- Support will be given to students who are frequent offenders. This may be in the form of counselling (by the class teacher, executive, student support personnel) and an individual behaviour contract instituted if warranted.

5. BULLYING

Bullying is repeated verbal, physical, social or psychological behaviour that is harmful and involves the misuse of power by an individual or group towards one or more persons. Cyber-bullying refers to bullying through information and communication technologies.

Bullying can involve humiliation, domination, intimidation, victimisation and all forms of harassment including that based on sex, race, disability, homosexuality or transgender. Bullying of any form or for any reason can have long-term effects on those involved including bystanders.

Bullying can happen anywhere: at school, travelling to and from school, in sporting teams, between neighbours or in the workplace.

Bullying behaviour can be:

- verbal eg name calling, teasing, abuse, putdowns, sarcasm, insults, threats
- physical eg hitting, punching, kicking, scratching, tripping, spitting
- social eg ignoring, excluding, ostracising, alienating, making inappropriate gestures
- psychological eg spreading rumours, dirty looks, hiding or damaging possessions, malicious SMS and email messages, inappropriate use of camera phones.

Conflict or fights between equals and single incidents are not defined as bullying. Bullying behaviour is not:

- children not getting along well
- a situation of mutual conflict
- single episodes of nastiness or random acts of aggression or intimidation.
Staff members at the school will use their professional judgement to:

- Incorporate lessons in the PD Health program that examine the nature of bullying and actions which can be taken to reduce incidents; this can occur using a variety of up to date related resources.

- Make students aware of bystander power (active encourages, physically assist bullying; passive supporters, smile at the bully and isolate the victims; passive rejectors, stand near the victim and do not smile at the bully; active challengers, tell the bully to leave the victim alone)

- Examine playground usage and playground supervision procedures

- Be aware of students with limited social skills and encourage their full participation in class and playground activities

- Respond to notifications by students or parents and react to observations of bullying, validate reports and record incidents if necessary

- Support victims and bullies through school and departmental services

- Parents of bullies will be notified if the bullying persists and actions will be taken in accordance with the school's whole school discipline plan
